NEWS

NEW EURO WEBSITE

Master Chemical Europe (MCE) has just launched a website to complement the global resource operated by its American parent-company, the Master Chemical Corporation. This is a dedicated European site that naturally contains a wealth of information on products developed specifically to meet the needs of European manufacturers.

Full technical data on MCE's European product range - including safety data sheets - can be easily downloaded from the site in a number of languages. It also carries latest customer news, application reports and hotlinks to European distributors.
